

December 2018 From the desk of Steve Herner

Last month I opened the message of an “incident” that needed a “savior” of sorts. To remind you I copied the following excerpt.

I have botched the job so badly that I need help to get it done correctly. I am not going to go further with any details but I will say that now I am hoping that my failed effort can be easily corrected. With this hope comes the confidence that it will get done correctly.

*Well, my hope was fulfilled in the person of my son Stephen. He brought skill and strength to correct my botched job and get it done right. He was the tool that God sent to help me. So it is a simple, yet real, example of the fact there is someone out there to fulfill your hope. True this is a simple “human” example of hope fulfilled, but I believe that God had this in His plan for me. And through my life there have been times, and will continue to be times, when need demands a hope in His ongoing plan for you. They are the times that we need to have faith in the SAVIOR. May we always trust in His plan and place our total hope in Him, Jesus Christ for He will not fail us. His will send the right “tool”

*Look to Him, and pray for Him to fulfill all of your needs each and every day no matter how small or large your need may be. He will send the right tool. As Scripture tells us; Our hope is in Jesus Christ the Savior of all that is in heaven or on earth,

So celebrate the anniversary of His coming into each of our lives so many years ago. Know Him, trust in Him, place your hope in Him and love Him for He loves you.
